TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—MRS. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

LOVE AND ROSES.

A wild rose drank of the morning dew,
A wild rose smiled at the morning sun,
A wild rose dreamed the warm day through,
A wild rose died when the day was done.

And ever the rose was fair, was sweet,
And ever the rose was shy,
But a rose's life, like a dream, is fleet,
And a rose in a day will die.

It fell on a day that love once grew
In the loam of the heart like a rose,
Like a rose it smiled in the morning dew,
Like a rose it died at the sweet day's close.

And ever the love was fair, was sweet,
And ever the love was shy,
But the life of love, like a rose, is fleet,
And a love in a day will die.
—John N. Hilliard in Vanity.

SOME SIGNS OF APPROACHING AGE.

How a Man Showed That He Was Growing Old Without Knowing It.

A man, apparently slightly past middle life, whose hair was tinged with gray and noticeably thin on top, sat near me at a theater. As the curtain rose for the first time a spectacled man of about the same age entered and occupied the vacant seat between us. He looked at the other fixedly. The look was exchanged, and in a second each had the other cordially by the hand. The conversation told that they had been schoolmates who had not met in many years.

"By Jove, Charlie," exclaimed the first, "it does me good to see you. You haven't changed much more than I have, and I am not a day older than when we got our diplomas."

"I can't quite agree with you, Tom," answered the other, "but I don't feel very old yet. I see you still enjoy the theater, and I suppose you have kept up your literary tastes for the past 30 years."

"Thirty years!" repeated Tom. "How the years fly! Do you remember how they used to drag? Theaters! Well, I do go now and then, but the plays and acting are not what they used to be. As to books, I still read them, but none of the modern trash. There hasn't been a good book written for a quarter of a century. The new ones give me the dyspepsia worse than what I eat. Do you remember the meals we had on the old Vermont farm? Those were happy days. Thirty years and more ago! Strange, but I don't show a sign of age. I wonder where this confounded draft is coming from. I feel neuralgia on top of my head now."

"Tom, old boy," replied the other, "you are deceiving yourself, for you have shown marked signs of approaching age within three minutes. Your belief that theaters and actors have degenerated, that new books are below the standard, that childhood cooking was perfection and that time flies so very fast are all indications that you are on the down hill side of life. The slight draft that you say brings a tinge of neuralgia to the top of your head, where, I notice, the hair is rather thin, wouldn't have been thought of 30 years ago. Then here you are in the very front seat of a theater. No use denying the signs, Tom. We are getting along and must admit what others plainly see."—New York Herald.

Material For Cavalry.

While the United States does not boast of a large standing army, the few regiments of cavalry which have seen service on the plains will not only compare favorably with the mounted men of other nations, but for the particular kind of work to which they have been trained they are without equals in the world. We have had no reason to keep them in training, but if put to the test we could certainly raise a magnificent army in a very short time. Unlike the early days of the recent rebellion, we would have plenty of horsemen to call upon.

Whereas, in earlier days, equestrianism was unknown, comparatively speaking, it has in later days become so general as a means of exercise, recreation and health that old and young are fairly good riders. The various sports of polo, hunting and racing have served to stimulate interest in equitation. The military troops formed throughout the country are also factors.

All of these sources would be drawn upon for officers rather than for private soldiers. They do not represent a large number in comparison with the force necessary to cope with a foe, but they would certainly prove a valuable nucleus on which to build.—Rider and Driver.

Wouldn't Need It.

The Syracuse Standard tells of an amusing correspondence that recently took place between a Wisconsin farmer and a local boiler firm. The farmer wrote as follows:

DERE SIRS—I hav a 1,000 akers of trees that I want cut. Im pore but Im willing to pay too hundred dolers fer an engin that will do my work.

The boiler firm saw that the engine necessary to accomplish the devastation of his virginal forest would cost $3,000, and they informed him to this effect.

A week passed and then the following pithy epistle came from the Wisconsin woods:

DERE SIRS—What in h—l wud I want of an engin or biler if I hed $3,000?

Survival of a French Word In Scotland.

While speaking to a respectable housewife near Dunfermline, some 30 years ago, as to the merits of a clergyman in the neighborhood, she informed me that he was said to be the best preacher "in a' the room." A cautious cross examination elicited the fact that "the room" certainly did not include the Lothians, and did not extend so far as Sterling. I came to the conclusion that the word "room" was a corrupt form of the French "royaume," the kingdom of Fife.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

BRICE'S GREATEST PLAY.

The Story of His Manipulation of the Nickel Plate Road.

Brice's greatest play was building the Nickel Plate. He put in every dollar he could get, and there came a time when he had to sell. He went to Vanderbilt, whose road the Nickel Plate paralleled. Vanderbilt would not buy the Nickel Plate. He said he could afford to wait the first mortgage foreclosure and buy it from the sheriff. "If you don't buy it, Jay Gould will," said Brice. "Oh, no, he won't," said Vanderbilt. Brice then went to Gould. He knew that he did not want the Nickel Plate, but he had a beautiful scheme to propose. He knew Vanderbilt would buy the road before he would allow Gould to get in. Brice thereupon told Gould that if he would sit silent and not contradict, neither affirm nor deny, any newspaper articles to the effect that he was going to buy the Nickel Plate, and after this clamlike silence had continued for a week, if he would then ride slowly over the Nickel Plate in an observation car, Vanderbilt would buy the road, and he would give Gould $500,000.

It struck Gould that the whole thing would be a majestic joke on Vanderbilt. The papers said that Gould was going to buy the Nickel Plate. Gould, when questioned, looked wise. At the end of a week he meandered, snaillike, over the Nickel Plate in the rear end of an observation car and had all the air of a man who was looking at a piece of property. Stories were wired about Gould's trip from every water tank and way station along the line, and, before Gould had reached Chicago, Vanderbilt, in a fit of hysterics, wired Brice that he would take the Nickel Plate. He did so, and Brice was saved.—San Francisco Argonaut.

A SOCIETY ITEM.

A Striking Object Lesson In the Ethics of Nomenclature.

It was at the Emerald ball, and the young society reporter sharpened her wits and her pencils, that full and satisfactory description of each costume might be presented. Surrounding her were those most desirous of seeing their names and gowns in print, and in the crowd stood a shopgirl, gowned in flimsy pink cheesecloth of indescribable cut.

When her turn came for inspection, it was with a hopeless eye that the reporter surveyed the toilet. The artful question, however, was asked, as usual:

"And your name and gown?"

"Miss Matilda Jenkins, attired in pink crepon and diamonds," was the studied and prompt reply.

"Pink crepon," wrote the newspaper woman, delighted with the new and elegant name for cheesecloth, but her pencil refused to add "and diamonds" until her quick eyes had discovered on the girl's collar a tiny rhinestone as big as a pinhead. Then "and diamonds" went down in the notebook as proudly as if announcing tiaras and stomachers of purest luster.

The next day all the girls behind a notion counter exclaimed enviously over a well worn newspaper clipping which read, "Miss Matilda Jenkins, attired in pink crepon and diamonds," and when the society reporter glanced over the printed words she felt never a pang as to the accuracy of the information she had given to the public.—New York Times.

De Tabley and His Books.

The side on which I was most capable of appreciating Lord de Tabley's gifts as a collector was the bibliographical. If I am anything of a connoisseur in this direction, I owe it to his training. His zeal in the amassing of early editions of the English poets was extreme; he was one of those who think nothing of hanging about a bookshop at 6 o'clock in the morning waiting for the shutters to be taken down. But his zeal was eminently according to knowledge. He valued his first edition for the text's sake, not for the bare fact of rarity. Every book he bought he read, and with a critical gusto. A little anecdote may illustrate his spirit as a collector. In 1877 he secured, by a happy accident, a copy of Milton's "Poems" of 1645, a book which he had never met with before. Too eager to wait for the post, he sent a messenger round to my house with a note to announce not merely the joyful fact, but—this is the interesting point—a discovery he had made in the volume—namely, that the line in the "Nativity Ode," which in all later editions has run—

Orb'd in a rainbow, and like glories wearing, originally stood—
The enamel'd arras of the rainbow wearing,

"which," as he said, "is a grand mouthful of sound and ever so much better than the weak 'like glories.'"—Contemporary Review.

Diamantine.

A very attractive ornamental art of recent introduction is, as stated, the production of an imitation beadwork on fabrics of various kinds by means of what is known as glass powder, or "diamantine," the result being patterns which present an appearance similar to that exhibited by glass beads on close or open meshed fabrics. The method of operation in carrying out this idea is said to be simple—that is, the fabric is coated by means of molding boards with resinous substances, composed of, say, 60 parts of guaiacum and 30 parts of shellac, dissolved in 100 parts of alcohol, 10 parts of glycerin being added to the solution under continuous stirring. After the composition has been carefully distributed over the surface of the fabric the glass powder is strewn on it and firmly pressed by repeated rolling, etc., the glass powder being prepared by thorough pulverizing or pounding, and may be of any or many colors.—New York Sun.

Conjugal Felicities.

"Mabel, I sometimes think you only married me for my money."

"Those lucid intervals are encouraging."—Harlem Life.

Wage Earners as Wives.

In a recent competition in the New York World for the best answer to the question, "Does Wage Earning Unfit a Woman For Domestic Life?" Mayor Strong awarded the prize to the writer of the following letter: "The best and most contented wife is one who has marched in line with wage earners through every stage of mental and physical tiredness; who, from the severely practical standpoint of experience in earning a dollar, has learned the value of it; whose contact with the outside world has broadened her sympathy and general knowledge; who has been denied care and consideration, and who, through earning enough of a salary, perhaps, to partially satisfy her tastes for the beautiful in life, in art or study, is allowed no time for anything but an insatiable longing for the same. To such a woman the care and protection of a husband, the shelter of a home, is a heaven. Any womanly woman from out the ranks of the business world will prove by a lifetime of devotion and helpfulness her appreciation of and her fitness for domestic life if her husband be half worthy."

Sells Her Skin at a Dollar an Inch.

A young woman living on Mission street makes a living by selling her skin for grafting purposes. A year ago she first contributed a little skin to a friend who was in need of a whole hide, and, finding that she could stand the pain and that her skin was particularly healthy, she concluded to profit by it. She sent a letter to nearly every physician and surgeon in this city and Oakland, calling their attention to the fact that she had healthy skin for sale.

Since then the young woman has had all the orders she could fill at very reasonable rates. She charges $1 a square inch, and usually parts with 20 to 30 square inches at a time. Altogether she has had nearly seven square feet of her skin removed from her body, and has now got around to the second growth. She is probably the only woman on earth who has been flayed alive.—San Francisco Post.

Side Comb Uses.

Decidedly the side comb is a valuable ally, and sightly in itself as well as convenient in causing a becoming fullness, and holding in place the pretty pomposity of the puff. For evening wear the hair is dressed high on the head, whether or not the ripples cover the ears, while an aigret of white osprey or of brilliants furnishes an able ornament. Variations of the Flaxman knot, although modish no more, are still to be seen—and admired by the discriminating; but elaborate bows and pretzel-like twists stand highest in favor, to say nothing of an extremely dull arrangement of rolls set in dreary sequence, for all the world like a terrace of suburban villa residences that is so undeservedly popular.

Lax Social Customs.

Don't let us say that we wouldn't trust our daughters and our sons anywhere. Let us keep our faith whole and unbounded in them, but do let us revise our ideas a little as to what is right and proper in our social customs. If our social customs were not so lax, if young girls were not left alone with young men so often and for so long a time, there would be few daughters of respectable homes go astray. Mothers cannot longer close their eyes to this question; the souls of their daughters are in their hands, and they owe it to themselves, to their daughters and to society to throw every possible protection around them.—Womankind.

Not Alarming.

In the annual report of Harvard college, recently published, a report from the dean of Radcliffe college appears for the first time. This declares the change from the annex to the college to be vital, though not strikingly evident, and evidences of the importance of this change are given. A most important step has been taken, too, in the opening of the graduate courses in Harvard university to women, and, as President Eliot remarks in his report, "The inroad was by no means alarming."—Christian Register.

Mrs. Pickerell's Chance.

The latest move on the part of woman is to secure the street cleaning. Mrs. Mary M. Pickerell of Denver has obtained the contract by making a bid $6,000 less than that of her predecessor. It has been claimed and claimed again that woman's experience as housekeeper should make her especially valuable in this field. It remains for Mrs. Pickerell to vindicate her own and her sex's right to the reputation of economists.—Exchange.

Short Girl, Beware of Frills.

Beauty in height and not in breadth alone can stand frills, and only tall, lithe figures can cope with the broad, draped girdles and fluffy waist arrangements now so popular. To Yvette Guilbert we owe much of the craze for decorative belts—that is, bodices dressed very much at the waist line, and which have the tendency to make a really slender, dainty figure look somewhat short and stubby. Short girls, beware of them!

London Wheelwomen.

The Green Park club, formed a few years ago for the convenience of lady cyclists in Battersea park, is about to enter upon the occupation of handsome new premises in Grafton street, Piccadilly. The list of members at present includes the names of the Countess of Londesborough and Mrs. William Court Gully. A hundred new members are about to be enrolled.—London Spectator.

A Popular Sentiment.

Governor Upham of Wisconsin, in his address of welcome to the recent convention of the State Epworth league at Madison, said that he hoped to see the time when they would all vote, men and women. The sentiment was loudly applauded by the host of young people and their leaders, the ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church.

INDEX-TRIBUNE

SONOMA, MAY 2, 1896.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR.

THE RASCALS ON TOP.

THE Supreme Court in its recent decision against the Sacramento Bee, one of the most fair, fearless and outspoken newspapers in the State, has with one swell swoop tied the Press of California hand and foot and given the rogues and rascals free license to trangress the laws without fear of being publicly reprimanded through the medium of the newspapers. Last August the Bee had occasion to mention the fact in its news columns that a merchant of Sacramento had been arrested on a charge of rape. The item appeared simply as news, no malice whatever being intended. At the preliminary examination the defendant was held to answer to the charge, but was subsequently discharged on a writ of habeas corpus. He then sued the Bee for $50,000 damages for libel. The proprietors of that paper when the case came up for trial, with a woeful lack of judgment, waived a jury trial and the presiding Judge gave judgment against them in the sum of $500. An appeal was then taken to the Supreme Court by the owners of the Bee with the result that the lower court was sustained in its judgment.

This is one of the severest blows ever delivered by a judicial tribunal at the liberty of the press and free speech, and in the interest of morality the present law governing the liability of publishers should be repealed and one substituted in its stead that will enable the newspapers to give the news and to denounce crime when crime is committed.

According to this judicial decision should that arch fiend, Theodore Durrant, manage to escape the hangman's noose through some technicality of the law, guilty as though he be, he could sue for and recover damages from every respectable newspaper in the State.

PROVOKING STUPIDITY.

AN important letter from the business office of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway Company failed to reach this office on Friday of last week. The letter was plainly addressed: "INDEX-TRIBUNE, Sonoma, Cal.," but, notwithstanding that fact, a stupid employee in the San Francisco postoffice, who ought to be kicked out of the office, caused the letter to be sent to "Sonora," Tuolumne county. This reminds us that many important letters and express packages addressed to residents of Sonoma are frequently miscarried to Sonora, and in many cases serious financial losses have occurred through the stupidity of mailing and express clerks in the employ of the Postal Service and Wells, Fargo & Co., in their San Francisco offices. We respectfully submit that the confounding of the two towns should be stopped, even though the "bouncing" act has to be resorted to. It is a very serious matter and means should be taken, by those in authority, to guard against this miscarriage of mail and express matter in the future.

THE Overland Monthly for May is upon our table. As usual this excellent California magazine is replete with interesting articles from the pens of some of our very best Pacific coast writers and sketches from well-known artists. The Overland is essentially California's magazine and ought to find its way into every household from Siskiyou to San Diego.

IT now looks as though McKinley will receive the nomination for President on the first or second ballot at the St. Louis convention, which convenes June 16th.

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and

Palpitation of the Heart.

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, self-control, vigorous health, and is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The Biggest Fool at Large

Is the individual who persistently neglects his health, and the means of preserving and restoring it. Many persons who are not constitutional idiots do this. They are genuine objects of compassion as well as censure. A failure of appetite, loss of sleep and flesh, impaired digestion, an uncertain state of the bowels and symptoms of billousness are so many warnings of the approach of disease. To disregard them is abject folly, which offended nature in due time punishes severely, if not fatally. That genial and thoroughly reliable preventive of bodily mischief in the shape of chronic disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will, if resorted to in time, avert those disorders, to the removal of which it is also fully adequate. Among these are chronic indigestion, liver complaint, constipation, kidney troubles, nervousness, rheumatism and malaria.

ECZEMA From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

REDUCING EXPENSES.

Over Seventy-Five Employees of the S. F. & N. P. Railway Discharged.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railway this week discharged over seventy-five mechanics, section men and carpenters employed on its main and branch lines in Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties. Of this number six have been let out on the Sonoma Valley branch. Many of these men have been in the employ of the company for years. The object of the Board of Directors of the road in reducing the number of employees is to cut down operating expenses, which, considering the receipts, have been exceedingly heavy the past few years.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Meeting of the Executive Committee To-Day.

There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Teachers' Institute Committee to-day at the office of R. A. Poppe, chairman of the committee. The object of the meeting is to wind up the affairs of the various committees appointed to entertain the teachers during Instiute week. It is now known that there is sufficient money on hand to pay all claims against the various committees.

Sonoma High School and the Carnival.

Sonoma was represented in the grand floral parade in Santa Rosa yesterday by a large float from the Sonoma Valley High School. The float, 9x15 feet and drawn by six handsome gray horses, represented the Temple of Flora. It was decorated with the colors of the school—gold and white—and profusely embellished with the California poppy and white roses. Within the temple was the throne of Flora, on which was seated Miss Cecilia Granice. She had been chosen Queen by a popular vote of her fellow students. In front of the throne was a sacred altar on which incense burned. The altar was presided over by the Queen's priestess, Miss Elsie Appleton, who received the offerings made to Queen Flora by the supplicants, Miss Sara Cady and Willie Clewe. At the head of each horse was a postillion clad in a toga of gold and white. These were Stewart Elliott, Ernest Campbell, Jesse Prestwood, Chas. Potter, Malcolm Elliott and Willie Chase. The ribbons over the horses were held by Jim Albertson, the veteran stage-driver of Sonoma.

Scared Teachers.

The special train of the Southern Pacific which conveyed the teachers from El Verano to Santa Rosa, on Friday of last week, met with an accident at Melitta. A large number of basalt blocks, awaiting shipment to San Francisco, had been carelessly piled too near the track, and as the train was rushing by that station the steps of the passenger coaches came in contact with the wall of blocks and three of them were demolished. The school marms were shaken up and somewhat frightened, as they thought the train had jumped the track. Fortunately, however, the train kept the rails and sped on its way none the worse for the mishap.

Dog Poisoner Around.

Parties having valuable dogs in this town should beware of the dog poisoner, who has been getting in his work with a vengeance of late. This week Charley Cheney and S. Schocken had their dogs poisoned by the fiend, who ought to be given a dose of his own medicine. Should the miscreant be apprehended it will go hard with him. The wretch that would take the life of a faithful canine to spite his owner is too mean to live. The dog may have his faults, but he is his master's best friend. Your dog and your money never go back on you.

City Trustees.

The new Board of City Trustees will meet next Wednesday evening. The members of the new Board will consist of J. E. Poppe, V. Bulotti, Henry Hartin, J. H. Seipp and L. Modini, all of whom are representative citizens of Sonoma.

Families visiting Sonoma will find the Sonoma House a first-class hotel in every respect. *

RAISING THE BEAR FLAG.

The Grand Parlor of Native Sons

Decides to Participate in Celebrating that Stirring Event in Sonoma.

The Grand Parlor of Native Sons, in session at San Luis Obispo the past week, decided on Tuesday last to celebrate the raising of the Bear Flag in this city in June.

As the Native Sons never do anything by halves the celebration will no doubt be the grandest ever held in Sonoma county.

The INDEX-TRIBUNE originated the idea and for the past twelve months has done all in its power to bring the celebration to a head, in which it has been ably seconded by the Santa Rosa Democrat, Sacramento Bee, Napa Register, Napa Reporter and a score of other newspapers in the State.

Acting on the suggestion, Fred. T. Duhring and Robt. P. Hill, representatives to the Grand Parlor from Sonoma Parlor, No. 111, and Glen Ellen Parlor, No. 122, have been indefatigable in their efforts during the session to have the celebration held under the auspices of the Native Sons, and their efforts have been crowned with success.

At this time it is impossible to report full particulars in regard to the celebration as no definite action will be taken until the return of Messrs. Duhring and Hill from San Luis Obispo, when it is expected that all the Native Sons Parlors in the State will co-operate with those of Sonoma and Glen Ellen in making the event one long to be remembered.

HEALSDBURG'S GRAND FLORAL FESTIVAL.

Reduced Rates Over the S. F. & N. P. Railway.

The San Francisco & North Pacific Railway Company, as will be seen by the adv in another column, has made the round trip fare to Santa Rosa and Healdsburg floral festivals so reasonable as to make it possible for almost everybody in Sonoma Valley to attend. To-day is the last day of Santa Rosa's Carnival and next Wednesdays Healdsburg's festival will begin and continue three days. Everybody who can do so should avail themselves of the low rate over the Donahue road and visit Healdsburg during festival week.

Demise of an Estimable Lady.

Mrs. Carrie D. Reed, wife of Station Agent Reed of this place, died at her home on Broadway last Monday morning after a lingering illness. Mrs. Reed came to Sonoma from Illinois several years ago, hoping that a change of climate would restore her failing strength, but that fell destroyer, consumption, after battling with the health-restoring climate of Sonoma Valley, finally claimed its victim. Mrs. Reed was a most estimable lady and during her residence in this place made many friends. She was a patient, uncomplaining sufferer for many months and bore her affliction with meek, Christian-like fortitude. The deceased, who was only 29 years of age, leaves a husband and four little children to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and a kind, indulgent mother. The funeral took place, under the auspices of Valley of the Moon Chapter, No. 85, Order of Eastern Stars, last Tuesday, the remains being interred in Mountain Cemetery.

Emigrated to Idaho.

Gil. P. Hall, ex-County Recorder, is now in Silver City, Idaho. A few weeks ago suit was commenced in the Superior Court of this county to recover several thousand dollars from Hall and his bondsmen for an alleged official shortage. Just what will be the outcome of the suit cannot be predicted at this time. Hall, at the time he went into office, was the idol of the people of Petaluma, and while campaigning was affectionately dubbed "our Gil." They don't use that expression now, however. Verily, this is a cold, cold-hearted world.

With but little care and no trouble, the beard and mustache can be kept a uniform brown or black color by using Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

SHOOTING AND STABBING.

A Mysterious Affray at the Foot of Sonoma Mountain.

On Sunday morning last it was reported around town that one man had been shot and another cut on a ranch at the foot of Sonoma Mountain, about four miles from this place. A messenger came to town to secure the sevrices of a surgeon to dress the wounds of the men, which are reported not to be serious. The parties to the difficulty are brother-in-laws named Wilson and Smith, new-comers in this valley. The latter, it is said, was cut in the groin while the former was shot in the head. Particulars in regard to the affray are being suppressed. What led up to the cutting and shooting, to use the expression of Lord Dundreary, "Is what no fellah can find out."

Heavy Frosts.

On Monday morning last and also on Thursday morning this valley was again visited with heavy frosts. Those vineyards that escaped injury from the damaging frosts of a couple of weeks ago were more or less injured by the latter visitations, if we except those lying upon the hillsides. Our vineyards have been practically wiped out and present a dried up and withered appearance. The frost has been general throughout the wine producing sections of the State and in consequense wine grapes will be less than a quarter of a crop this season. Prices of wine have advanced to 20 and 25 cents per gallon. This is some consolation to our grape producers, as should wine continue to advance, as it most assuredly will owing to the shortness of the crop, the losses by frost this year, if nothing unforseen happens, will be more than made up by high prices next season. But what is the man with a vineyard to do in the meantime?

The Druids.

At a regular meeting of Sonoma Grove, No. 75, U. A. O. D., held last night, the following newly-elected officers were installed by District Deputy Codiga to serve for the ensueing six months: G. Olivieri, P. A; L. Nessi, N. A; P. Roveda, V. A; A. G. Bulotti, Corresponding Secretary; Jas. Pedroia, Financial Secretary; D. Valente, Treasurer; Fred. Batto, Conductor; A. Jennett, I. G; F. Bianchi, O. G. Representatives to the Grand Lodge, which convenes in San Francisco on June 16th, were being balloted for when we went to press.

Thanks.

We are under obligations to President Sims and the Press Committee of the Santa Rosa Carnival for a complimentary ticket admitting the INDEX-TRIBUNE representative to the coronation of the Queen, the grand ball, bicycle races, balloon ascensions and all the other attractions during the three days of the carnival. The managers of the Santa Rosa Carnival, appreciating the Press, are doing all in their power to make the stay of the newspaper men in the City of Roses as pleasant as possible. Among other courtesies extended was that of President Sims, who very generously gave up his handsome bay-window suit of law office parlors to the pen-wielders for their headquarters. In future Sonoma might emulate the example of Santa Rosa in matters of this kind.

Death of Robt. Howe's Mother.

Mrs. Elizabeth Howe, the aged mother of Hon. Robt. Howe of this place, died at her daughter's home in San Francisco last Monday at the ripe old age of 88 years. The old lady had been ailing for some time and her death was not unexpected. The deceased was born in Virginia and was a highly cultivated lady.

It has been asked why a city is called a "She." The answer seems an easy one. There is always more or less "bustle" about a city. Besides a city has "outskirts" and a "he" could not under any circumstances have "skirts" of any kind.—Ex.

On Thursday night last the express office at El Verano was broken into, the till forced and a sum of money was secured by the thieves. At the hour of going to press no arrests had yet been made. The amount secured by the burglars is said to have been $50.

WHAT MAKES THE PIANO RATTLE!

Queer Causes Found by the Tuner—Things In the Instrument.

Piano tuners are sometimes called upon to "tune" gas fixtures as well as pianos. Frequently the owner of a fine upright "grand" enters a vigorous complaint because "that piano rattles so." Then the piano tuner packs his few tools and some extra glue and parts of the "action" into his long, slender valise and proceeds to feel the pulse, pound the chest, examine the tongue and overhaul the internal economy of the offending piano. His experienced ear tells him that the piano is all right. His intimate knowledge of the mechanism and make up of the piano assures him that nothing is the matter with the instrument, and he says so.

"But the piano does rattle," insists the owner. "Now, listen when I touch this key." And, sure enough, a decided buzz and jingle are heard.

"It is not in the piano," replies the tuner, and he touches the key again and again, at the same time glancing around the room. "There it is," he says at last, "pointing to the glass globe around the gas jet. "There is the rattler," and the irritating noise is silenced when he removes the glass globe.

This is a common experience of piano tuners. Certain notes in the piano vibrate in harmony with a gas fixture, a picture frame, a china plaque hung against the wall or the bric-a-brac which commonly litters the top of the sensitive instrument, and the innocent piano is blamed for the discordant jangle. Pins, buttons and other things foreign to the piano which find their way into the instrument set up complaints and harsh cries when certain keys are struck, and recently a piano tuner in Evanston, searching for the "rattle," found and restored to the young woman who used the instrument her upper set of false teeth, which had disappeared mysteriously the week before.

Besides coins, buttons, pins and toothpicks, the piano tuner's salvage includes hairpins, pocketknives, paper cutters, manicure instruments, knitting needles, matches, jewelry, nails, tacks, bits of glass, pieces of picture wire, buckles, collar buttons, sleeve buttons, rings and even money which had been placed in the case for safe keeping and then forgotten.—Chicago Chronicle.

STORY ABOUT LINCOLN.

Senator John M. Palmer Tells of Their First and Last Meetings.

"The first time I met Mr. Lincoln," said Senator Palmer of Illinois, "was in 1839, when I went to Springfield to be admitted to the bar. He was already recognized as a Whig leader. He wore, I remember, a suit of linsey woolsey that could not have been worth more than $8, even in those days. The last time I saw him was in February of 1865. I had come to Washington, at the request of the governor, to complain that Illinois had been credited with 18,000 too few troops. I saw Mr. Lincoln one afternoon, and he asked me to come again in the morning. The next morning I sat in the anteroom while several officers were received. At length I was told to enter the president's room. Mr. Lincoln was in the hands of the barber.

"'Come in, Palmer,' he called out, 'come in. You're home folks. I can shave before you. I couldn't before those others, and I have to do it some time.'

"We chatted about various matters, and at length I said, 'Well, Mr. Lincoln, if anybody had told me that in a great crisis like this the people were going out to a little one horse town and pick out a one horse lawyer for president, I wouldn't have believed it.'

"Mr. Lincoln whirled about in his chair, his face white with lather and a towel under his chin. At first I thought he was angry. Sweeping the barber away, he leaned forward, and, placing one hand on my knee, said:

"'Neither would I, but it was a time when a man with a policy would have been fatal to the country. I have never had a policy. I have simply tried to do what seemed best each day as each day came.'"—New York Sun.

The "Arabian Nights" Once More.

A large part of Cairo is very little spoiled. It is still, to a great degree, the city of the "Arabian Nights." The worst injury was done before England took the reins, for it was Ismail who recklessly ran streets through mosques and ancient palaces in order to make a straight drive to the citadel. In the Boulevard Mohammed Aly we certainly find the oddest jumble of east and west, old and new. For example, just opposite the stately mosque of Sultan Hasan, at the head of this unsightly street, you see a cabaret with the signboard, "Grog Shop For Army and Navy;" next door a Moslem school, as the inscription, "Medresseh Mohammediyah," shows.

Across the road stands the shapeless mass of the unfinished Rifa'iyeh mosque, erected at the cost of £350,000 by the mother of Ismail, and within those unroofed walls, surrounded by rotting scaffolding, lies the body of the princely borrower himself. Under the shadow of Sultan Hasan an Arab barber is cutting hair with a modern clipping machine. A gayly painted harim carriage stands in the road. On the panel is a sham coat of arms. Solemn sheikhs pass by without any sort of emotion at these queer sights. Overhead the citadel guns boom out a salute, for it is the great festival, the Id-el-Kebir.—Saturday Review.

Reminded Him.

"I observe, Brother Rocksworthy," said the Rev. Dr. Fourthly, "that when I spoke in my sermon yesterday of the evils of gambling in stocks, and expressed the hope that no member of my congregation ever frequented places where such gambling was made a business, you slapped your thigh emphatically. I am glad if the sentiment met your approval."

"Why—aw—the fact is, doctor," replied Brother Rocksworthy, "I—I suddenly remembered where I had left my umbrella."—Chicago Tribune.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

POLLOCK is now in his best age, and surely ought to be a good horse to breed from.

We secure the best patents for our clients, and the object of this offer is to encourage inventors to keep track of their bright ideas. At the same time we wish to impress upon the public the fact that such as the "car-window" which can be easily slid up and down without breaking the passenger's back, "sauce-pan," "collar-button," "nut-lock," "bottle-stopper," and a thousand other little things that most any one can find a way of improving; and these simple inventions are the ones that bring largest returns to the author. Try to think of something to invent.

IT IS NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS.

Patents taken out through us receive special notice in the "National Recorder," published at Washington, D. C., which is the best newspaper published in America in the interests of inventors. We furnish a year's subscription to this journal, free of cost, to all our clients. We also advertise, free of cost, the invention each month which wins our $150 prize, and hundreds of thousands of copies of the "National Recorder," containing a sketch of the winner, and a description of his invention, will be scattered throughout the United States among capitalists and manufacturers, thus bringing to their attention the merits of the invention.

Ohio Women.

There must be any number of bright women in Ohio. In four publications from that state in one week there were creditable poems by Johnstone Murray, Elizabeth Cherry Haire, Corella Bond, Gabrielle Stewart, Mary Wevill, Edna Heald, Anna S. Roberts and Mrs. Warner Snoad. The State Federation of Women's Clubs and Societies is growing continuously and has almost reached the hundred mark. The 29 colleges and anniversities of the state, all of which practice coeducation, are more largely attended than ever before, the number of women varying from one-fourth to one-half of the total attendance. This year Oberlin has over 1,400 students; Mount Union, 550; Ohio State university, 900, and Ohio Wesleyan, 1,150, while the remainder average 400 each. Fifty art, technical, industrial and professional schools are equally successful.

A Mother Marries Her Daughter.

A very odd wedding occurred recently at the residence of the Rev. Mary T. Whitney in Boston. The groom was the Rev. Carl G. Horst, the pastor of the Second Unitarian church of Athol, Mass., and the bride was Miss Emily Aitken of Boston, and the officiating minister was the Rev. Martha C. Aitken, mother of the bride. Cases where a father marries his daughter are not infrequent, but this is perhaps the only instance on record where a mother has married her daughter.—Portland (Me.) Press.

An Athletic Princess.

The Archduchess Maria Theresa of Austria has taken to athletics with great enthusiasm. It is said that on one occasion, when a great iron column fell down across a man, and there was a general rush for levers and assistance, the archduchess gave the mass a heave which enabled the man to be drawn from under it. She is the daughter of the titular Grand Duke of Tuscany and wife of the Archduke Charles Etienne.

An Enterprising Girl.

Miss Nellie Cheeley of Morrill, Minn., has taken a homestead claim, and is going into the honey business on a large scale, starting her apiary with 50 colonies of bees. She is experienced, and will doubtless make a success. This enterprising Minnesota girl will teach school in winter and care for her bees during summer.

Deals In Real Estate.

Miss Fannie Unger has opened a real estate office opposite Nutley station, Franklin, N. J., and has hung out a golden sign. Miss Unger is an energetic young woman, and has property for sale and houses to let. She has been engaged in stenography for several years.
